

Claim Forms

Claims Management Branch

A collage of several TSA claim forms. The forms are white with blue and black text. Some forms have blue headers with the TSA logo. The forms are arranged in a way that shows different parts of the claim process, including sections for incident description, evidence, and contact information.

You may submit a claim to TSA by downloading and completing the TSA Claims Package located below.

Please Note the following:

- For lost or missing baggage, please contact your airline. Most airlines recommend reporting missing baggage immediately upon arrival.
- If you have a lost or missing item which you believe was left at a TSA Passenger Screening or Baggage Checkpoint, before filing a claim with TSA or your airline, please call Lost & Found [1].
- Additionally, TSA has eighteen airports that utilize private screening services and does not handle claims for incidents that occur at these airports. Claims pertaining to these airports must be filed directly with the company providing screener services at the applicable airport. To file a claim for an incident that occurred at one of these private screening airports, please select one of the following links:
